

It's a crazy world out there! Can you tell truth from lies? How do you know who to believe?

Our speaker today is a body language expert and a frequent guest on TV interpreting the body language of criminals and politicians. (And sometimes both labels describe the same person!)

She's leader in training people to persuade and influence and travels the country teaching corporations and association audiences how to hear "Yes!" from others more easily and more often. She even trains lawyers how to pick and persuade a jury using body language.

She's the author of 3 books

Her new Amazon Bestseller Persuasion Point, Body Language Confidential and Body Language for Profits.

Today she's going to share with us how to crack the code of lie detection. Hold on to your hats and be ready to take lots of notes. We're in for some fun!

Please hold your applause until after this really cool video
